Day of the Song, Concert 1

Two concerts celebrating International Day of People with Disability on Saturday 3 December & Sunday 4 December 2016

Concert 1: Day of the Song at Grainger Studio
 Saturday 3 December, 6:00 pm - 8:00 pm

To be launched by the South Australian Minister for Disabilities, Mental Health and Substance Abuse, the Honourable Leesa Vlahos.

Tutti Arts and Infusion Music are thrilled to present renowned US soul singers Tony Lindsay and Janice Maxie-Reid with a chorus of 100 singers for this first fabulous Day of the Song at Grainger Studio concert.

Our Day of the Song headline artist for 2016 is Tony Lindsay, 'the Voice of Santana' for over 20 years. Tony has toured and performed around the world with Carlos Santana, gaining 11 Grammys and countless accolades along the way. He has also recorded and performed with the likes of Aretha Franklin, Al Jarreau and Teddy Pendergrass.

Joining Tony is electrifying soul singer and world-class keyboard player Janice Maxie-Reid who has toured internationally with Sting and Stevie Wonder.

Together these two phenomenal performers will join with the Tutti and Poco Tutti Choirs, La la Land and the International Revival Gospel Choir for a sizzling repertoire of hit songs, including 'What's Going On?', 'Ain't No Mountain High Enough', 'Turn Your Love Around', 'Hit the Road Jack', and Tony's celebratory new song 'Victory' - which is aimed at sharing love around the world.

Musically directed by Carol Young, with a band made up of Adelaide's hottest musicians including a horn section, Day of the Song at Grainger Studio will be a soul-stirring night to remember.

Book early to avoid disappointment!
