HISTORY OF AUTISM

By Julian Jaensch
and members of Company @

The Father of Autism, Dr Leo Kanner, takes the audience on a surreal, topsy-turvy journey from the identification of this mysterious condition through to current thinking.

With comic abandon, genuine insight and gut-wrenching reality, the audience travels through history: from the Austrian woods in 1863, to the 'refrigerator mother' theory of the 1950s, the 'screaming 70s' and the growing understanding of the 90s, finally arriving in the present.

With the entire cast on the Spectrum, History of Autism renders the story of Autism with genuine understanding and humanity.
